Creativity

More creations will happen this year, scientific breakthroughs, creative strategies on money issues and lots of great music.

~ Joseph

I feel a grand awakening of humans, about being authentic and original. A lot of new creations and ways of doing things. Changes... changes... exciting!

~ Tina

2009 is the year of Doing, just go and DO IT! And actually it doesn't matter what you DO just DO IT!

~ Imelda

Intense creativity on the edge of chaos seeds millions of new forms. Global access/opportunity for the many, loss of control for the few. Continual morphing, a way of life....

~ Kayla

New forms, colors, and artistic expressions will appear, bringing with them an expanded sense of beauty and harmony for the Earth.

~ Fred

I feel that this year the opportunity to see the magic that we are, reflected within us and around us, is greater than we've ever known. In 2009 our stories become that much more magical if we author it so.

~ Jen

I've simply felt that 2009 is going to be THE year for getting things done and for the changes we've been waiting for. Basically its going to be a HUMUNGOUS year in every sense - an exciting year.

~ Eli

In 2009, we will expand exponentially our abilities to consciously manifest what our heart's desire. We are Gods also and Gods manifest. All we have ever wanted already exists---now it is time to pick and choose what it is that will allow our hearts to sing. How? Imagination is the key.

~ Anna Marie

I see more and more masters assuming their roles as the master and commander of their own lives, allowing the waves of the world to come and go without trying to change the waves but riding them like the true ships of glory they are. The world will still be the world but the masters of their own lives will live in harmony with it all not trying to save or change it.

I see many masters tinkering in their own workshops/studios/keyboards etc. creating their own world of beauty and personal truth.

Jesus is taken off the cross.

~ Maureen

World situations

Saw a lot of barricades and armed black uniformed troops/sharpshooters in Washington, DC. I think there will be many threats and reasons to vacate areas around the White House and Capital.

I saw the young people being targeted to be "harnessed for good" because they are considered most likely to act up in times of turmoil.

So there will be some fear, some attempts to control situations, but above all there are huge possibilities to manifest. It may look bleak, but it is an excellent time. Like minded folks must find each other and keep their spirits high!

~ Mary

I feel that 2009 will be a year of communication, with much open and honest communication between the US government, EU governments, Russia and China on how to solve the global crisis. Israel will be a main focus of attention and I feel by the end of the year peace will have been accomplished.

I feel that the 'natural ways' of healing will gain more attention and publicity and support.

I feel that people in the US will look at more basic truths and stop chasing a superfluous image, which will mean less sales of luxury items, luxury travels, luxury living. Unfortunately, I also see despair, road rage, fear. Be careful on the roads!

~ Heidelinde

The world population will be more and more divided in two parts: the ones that trust themselves and create miracles and the ones that live in fear.

~ Jan

Political, religious, social, economic and geophysical systems severely shaken to re-emerge in more appropriate forms. Acute very real 'growing pains' give way to new evolution. America rediscovers self esteem and renewed respect from world community.

~ David

Volatility of stock market to continue, more people committing suicide over financial losses, more rioting in large cities around the world. Positive growth and movement in the renewable energy fields, stem cell research and gene therapy.

~ Muriel

Explosive and expansional.

~ Denise

A lot of fights and battles around the world and between people will take place. But these are ways to more consciousness, clarity, integrity and authenticity for everyone. At the end of the year we can heave a sigh of relief and look at the wonderful metamorphosis.

~ Renate

I feel a tremendous resistance building up to prevent any change to happen.

~ Catherine

What I feel for the upcoming year is more "ping pong" happenings, but in areas other than financial. 'Towers will fall' for those who, through their fears and insecurities, use power to manipulate, bully and intimidate others, in order to boost their frail ego. Not just the big guys, but those in the small business sector as well.

Those that are able to simply watch this occur, without judgment and interference (ie stay behind their short wall) will have made a major leap in their own wholeness, so that their own "tower" is the light of love and compassion.

~ Elaine

Major financial catastrophes in India, China and Japan. Arrest of a loved and honored person because of betrayal. Earthquake in northern Mexico causing tidal waves up the coast. Troops come home.

~ Viola

VIOLENCE - that's what I feel will get a Black Swan this year among other things. At a consciousness level I believe the world community has had enough of it from all levels, personal, community and from the international perspective. Around the world, peace loving people will unite, lending their voices to say it is time for violence to cease and that citizens should be able to walk the streets without fear of being mugged, robbed and physically abused and that it is time for the worlds leaders to set the pace for world peace. I look forward to Kryon's prediction having sway, that "As Israel goes so shall the rest of the world.

~ Rod

What I feel about this magical year is very the important Isis Message RETURNING Home in all the World. Feminine power full of Love, wisdom, beauty, joy, simplicity, harmony, grace, elegance, miracles, magical ways, FREEDOM, peace, with care, in a sacred way will become the primary way to live and to be on Earth.

Feminine Leaders will appear at the top of presidency for many countries, including Romania, sacred land. Feminine LEADERSHIP IN SPIRIT, very wise, very powerful with LOVE in the heart, with divine Intuition guiding step by step, bringing Paradise on Earth. Already started, this sacred mission. Power of Divine Mother. Mothers are the BEST leaders because they lead with LOVE!

LOVE is a feminine word. LOVE IS ALL IT IS. Expansion of the Spirit, Soul, DIVINE ESSENCE.

And so it is!

~ Carmen

Due to climatic, religious or inter cultural migration, there will come about a new level of compassion and a uniting of nations, like unto the Euro introduction a few years ago. A way to heal, integrate and unite the Nations. These changes bring about less segregation and more co-operation between all groups and cultures. A new world with new energy society. The united nations. Worthy and free conscious beings.

~ Simone

The conflict between Israel and Gaza will come to an end this year, in a way that nobody can imagine. No winner, no loser, just the new energy "in action," amazing and powerless.

~ Marie-Françoise

When I heard about the economic crisis I felt an incredible relief. A lot of people will have no other choice than to look for new answers. This is a year of hope.

~ Olivia

Chaos and challenge, but with the wonderful potential for growth and new energy to flood the earth.

~ Margie

I feel that the recent unrest in and around Israel will be a catalyst for New Energy Humans to begin to manifest solutions of peace.

~ Paul

I feel an increased level of consciousness that raises conflicts between the old and new energy, or continuation of world conflicts (terrorism) but with decline of the old to the new - more attention, understanding, respect, acceptance and freedom of choice without violence. I wish peace, joy and love that I felt - for all human beings on Gaia.

~ Taya

I feel that for the first time in many decades, the US will begin actually building again. We will actually start to see the beginning of Tomorrowland, when before it was only visible at Disneyworld.

~ Shaun

A continuing revelation of the integrity of our leaders and politicians in the U.S.

~ Karen

I felt a sense of relief when President Obama was finally officially elected and the intrigue was over. I had a bit of anxiety, but I know that we are really safe and poised for an exciting future.

~ Roger

My feeling about Obama for the first part of this year is that he will have several false starts and find that his first thoughts for our nation are not falling into place. He and his group will have to come together with a New Feel for the country that they are to lead. By the end of the year the true Obama will be in place, not the mask of Obama that we see now.

~ Denise

A real feeling for the connection between consciousness and money. I think there's going to be a slow recovery in the real estate market. I think there's going to be a stock market rally and then a sharp decline.

~ Patricia

Clean and relatively free energy.

~ David

I'm sensing, beginning with Obama, a heart connection throughout the world, and I'm also noticing in politics that it's starting here in Colorado as well.

~ Kathy

I sense that our military will find alternatives to war that will look more as peace.

~ Deb

I predict that America will slowly move away from being the big bully in the world's eyes to more of a beacon for goodwill as envisioned by the founders.
~ Nancy

This year will bring in interesting energies to earth and people. In January, maybe also February, I see a very swift month giving lots of opportunity to heal deep wounds for many. The contrast of light and dark energies is strong and changing quite swiftly. Later in the spring time I see golden green energies coming up and down and it can mean true blossoming for many who have been still in bud, and not yet opened to flowering. I see energies being passed and positions being passed that have been long held by certain individuals and factors.
~ Laura

I felt the energies and I saw a big wave, as in a big flooding and with that I felt a deep feeling of compassion and co-operation from Humans that was impressive. It felt as deep as never before. It kinda looked like a second tsunami. Basically I feel that the global consciousness - and with that the whole civilization - will be more in compassion.

I feel that we are going to see and feel much more in imagination and will discover how easy and natural it is. How we can simply create another reality / dimension, in the same place where there is drama or chaos, by choice. It feels like an abundant year in creative energies from our crystalline realms straight into manifestation.
~ Erno

The world is gonna be great.
~ Jonathan

Expanding technology, breakthroughs within communication that was not expected (by those who made it), within cable networking (something, I do not find the words to explain). Money will come easier to everyone who opens up to it. Life will be more about living the essence, will be easy to spot amongst those who have the (big) money and want to share it with the world. We will be more and more aware of holes in our thinking, what we think is, is not. That the world isn't really how we perceive it.

Our time perception will change, from how we see it today and how we come to understand it in December 2009. We will find out in numerous ways that time works with us not against us (the individual feeling, AND the earth consciousness). This will result in more compassion, trust and heartfelt caring for one another as we see that we are not in a hurry anyway.

Bombings, earthquakes, poverty (worsened where already bad), AIDS spreading, epidemics and other disasters will continue. But there will be an even broader understanding of what will have to be done to prevent it, and help/support those who are hit by it. I see the number 9, about 9 huge storms/hurricanes/earthquakes/similar disasters that hit the earth throughout the year. They will make strong bonds among survivors and around the earth. Similar to 9/11 effect. But I don't actually see enormous numbers of dead people. That might be because I do not wish to see it, or that it is prevented in some way.

~May Britt

- If we get "out of the Box " there will be many pleasant surprises.
- Another sharp fall in the stock market or another world shattering event around September 2009
- We will listened more to our Yoham /higher-self than to others
- We will be more aligned with our soul passions, and dropping off old stuff, even the so called "Lightwork," its like shedding old skin
- More authenticity
- A renewed interests in the I Ching - the Book of Change world wide

~ Crimsonlily

The 'Dark continent' of Africa is as far as my 'prediction' feelings go for now. This whole continent is starting to shake it's own darkness loose and it hasn't found the easy button yet, far from it! The patriarchal power and glory games are going to be challenged more and more by earth/survival issues. How much suffering & chaos will be necessary to shake these age old games from their foothold? It seems like the old would rather die in it's current state because it doesn't know how to shift to or live in a different dynamic.

Sorry about the gloomy picture, I just feel there's a hell of a lot of darkness in the process of shifting and it's going to be a rough ride before the new is going to show it's face, for now it's still obscured in the current picture.

~ Hermien

South Africa - I feel that the government is going to find a way of balancing itself, that the crime will become less and less, that the people will find it in their hearts to forgive and allow the changes needed to happen gracefully.

~ Michelle

I saw a black cloud over the north-western hemisphere of earth (like the smoke of a volcano), palm trees shaking in the wind, disbelief, anger and fear in the eyes of many people. On the other side was the emergence of hope, much more neutrality facing the changes.

I feel that the united nations will play a more central role in dealing with the upcoming changes. And my favorite: more acceptance of easy and cheap energy sources, like cold fusion (in 2010)

~ Martin

Obama turns out to be a huge disappointment and people start to really wonder - what is wrong with us and the way we choose the people we give our power to and the way we give that power up ...

~ Vladimir

The Earth

Extreme weather due to several volcanic eruptions, resulting in heavy rainfall in Europe and Canada in spring time. Burning forests at the tropics around the equator world wide in the summer time, animals relocating their habitats in autumn, and an extremely early beginning of the winter. Humans in a chaos state of mind, believing this is the end of the world. Due to this all humans are starting to love other humans again. War dies finally and forever just before Christmas.

~ Eshra

Animals, our friends, guides, teachers....holding the spirit of Freedom for Humanity, yet encaged, abused, slaughtered for the past 10,000 years....will be Free. Freedom for Humanity follows.

~ Donna

I feel almost an urgency in our Mother Earth to do some sprucing up to be released from the heaviness of old energy that clutter. The short wall will certainly be in order.

~ Thérèse

I predict animals will soon not wish to be pets.

~ Darlene

I feel that a physical connection to the New Earth will be discovered this year.

~ Donna

Society

I agree with Tobias' prediction that the pharmaceutical industry will continue to grow, and that our society will become increasingly over-medicated over the coming few years.

I work in pharmaceuticals, and big companies are indeed outperforming the market. They are developing a few life-saving drugs - which is good. But they are also promoting the wide scale use of some medicines (like cholesterol-lowering drugs or anti-depressants), which should only be given to a small proportion of patients who really need them.

That said, "Big Pharma" are a part of a broader system – the financial system with shareholders demanding growing profits; the medical system with doctors who don't have the time or knowledge to talk to their patients about their diet or depression and find it easier to prescribe a drug; and the patients themselves, who want the quick fix of a pill. A lot will have to change to reverse the trend to over-medication – it's all about awareness! I think will take time.

~ Nora

My vision is very positive for the upcoming shifts that are occurring in 2009 (personal and planetary) and I am very grateful for these changes. Many, many more will begin to awaken and those of us who are awakened will take profound leaps in consciousness. My vision is that we will continue to build new planetary communities on both inner and outer levels. God Bless us all!

~ Megan

I feel 2009 will be summed up in one word: "work." We have some work to do in this coming year in particular. We have to reorganize the way we do things. Repair what has shed away and replace. Fix, heal and comfort each other with compassion. Work can be good also – there's nothing like a good day's work. The end of my best days now are when I look back and see that

I have accomplished much today.

~ Norman

More families and friends pulling together and more emphasis on living this life "with beauty and love" in the present world of monetary crisis.

~ Ellen

Nostalgia - i.e. we used to do it this way – waste not, want not – mending or repairing stuff. Those in the 'know' will be lighting the atmosphere with their peaceful joyfulness and excited expectancy.

~ Jill

Fewer big companies, more small businesses/firms.

~ Adrian

Truth will come forth. Violence will be reconciled as heart and mind unites in the consciousness of oneness and love. Love will prevail.

~ Peter

More will be revealed about how we can access our DNA to heal ourselves. The big money guys and corporations that have held the power will continue to lose their control of the available resources.

~ Stephen

What once stood proud and strong collapses. Walls tumble and foundational assumptions crumble. Those of love, inclusion, healing and joy, see expanding connectivity. This wellspring feeds them hope and opportunity.

~ Lu Emanuel

People will find begin to make opportunities for the future in the present, rather than giving up their presence to ensure their future.

~ Sam

The year 2009 holds unprecedented, unlimited possibilities for everyone choosing to embrace the divinity of the human identity. We are the ones we are waiting for.

~ Karsten

I feel a massive breakdown. An important building block of the old systems is going to crumble. The new energies will be there, but it won't seem like it at first.

~ Martin

I have a deep, genuine feeling this reorganization of energy is leading to some really powerfully creative times for humanity. I'm excited!

~ Georgia

I felt that more suicides would be taking place and sure enough the next day on the news a family was killed and the family member took their own life.

~ Tamara

As I feel into the future I see many of the "old guard" leaving. The Pope, George Bush (Sr) and Queen Elizabeth II (of Prince Philip, not clear on that one), and many other world leaders who are of the old energy.

~ Marty

I think that most people will at first become locked up in fear, and I predict that this will be a pivotal point for change throughout the world.

~ Lyn

Reconciliation and unifying of Nations.

Shift Christianity to more religious freedom and spiritual growth

Balancing Global wealth and resources.

Raising working class standards, education, skills and self - determination.

~ Glad

2009 shows up plenty of illusions. Now we will choose to create from our highest consciousness, from our essence of Infinite Love and transform challenges so they are not so extreme.

~ Carmen

I feel it will be increasingly difficult in terms of testing and energy stealing by woman, and man must learn to love and accept his responsibility.

~ Simon

Communities are going to make their voices heard, not just about local issues but about National and International issues that they feel need to be addressed in different / new ways.

~ Helen

I feel that a great consciousness opening is taking place specially among young people. Every day they become renewed, flourished and courageous. They just want unity, peace and above all LOVE.

~ Aura Elena

Allowance and acceptance by all groups.

~ Simone

Predicting the future will be out as the people begin to create their reality.

~ Ergoz

Contributions, collaborations, people helping people, people looking inside themselves for strength. Turmoil creating new ways of doing things. Love and compassion. Feeling lost and excited at the same time. The beginning of a new era.

~ Mireille

There are going to be new discoveries made about the distant past – past events, civilizations, races, species, etc., which will re-define humanity's ideas of "who we are."

~ Janaya

I predict there will be no more secrets. Like our local daily paper says." If you don't wanted it printed, don't let it happen."

~ Diann

I feel my life slowing down. I will be more content to do less. I will see my value as a person based on who I am, not on what I do, not on my accomplishments. I have nothing to prove. I am love and I connect to those I love by purely being present in their lives. Not fixing or teaching or telling them what is best, but allowing them to experience their lives. Allowing others to ask for my help before I intrude with unsolicited advise! I will completely resolve the tiny residues of fear I still carry. Love will transmute fear. We will recognize we are all in this life experience together and there will be more displays of love towards one another.

~ Sher

On a material and personal level, people are going to 'lose' a lot. However, many are going to gain a lot. Many are also going to expand their consciousness. And many are going to realize that it was appropriate to 'lose' things in order to expand/ascend.

~ Duane

Storms creating domestic dramas apparently awakening, alignment of the soul through conscious choice. Disappearing means contentment, the emergence of profound joy or distress and suffering at one's choice.

~ Ahnah

I see many thousands of individuals from all over the world "cocooning" while asking themselves: "Who I Am?"

~ Rose Marie

We will realize that there's never been a more exciting time to live on Earth, so we'll be able to rejoice for what is in the future anyways.

~ Natasha.

We're going to start listening to ourselves instead of others.

2009 is going to be a year of abundance for us. We will be busy but in a different way than we have imagined. We will be stepping into our roles as 'masters' and 'standards' in a most natural way for each of us. Yes, we will see much change in our outer world and our inner world (including large earth changes and continued personal changes). Already, we are experiencing the coming up and leaving of old layers of anything left in our personal field that would otherwise hold us back from being our truest, most sovereign selves. It is a year of coming into our own, of loving self unconditionally; which inevitably and most delightfully leads to the unconditional love of ALL.

~ Vivian

The loss of mind, combined with the fact that people are really, really living what they want to live, without fear or concerns, or if it is appropriate to whom or what so ever. Breakdown of rules, written and unwritten first within and inevitable 'outside.' The recognition for many, many that love for self is essential before anything else.

~ Daniela

In 2009 more and more people will become dissatisfied with giving their power away to the "experts" in their lives -- doctors, lawyers, judges, priests, shamans, preachers, healers, politicians, investment gurus, bankers -- and will start to seek out new ways to empower themselves and solve their own problems in their own way. People will begin to learn that they have an inner voice, and will begin to learn to listen to it.

~ Susan

I felt a quickening upswing, like mania, and the light to dark of that spectrum. Like this is the first real feeling people will have of "time breaking down" and the first way of handling it will be to rush as much as possible. And people feeling their living time running out, through failing mind or health, radical choices there (again light to dark in the spectrum)

Also, people very much connecting debt and 'the past' - maybe debt finally being gone, but maybe yes, maybe no, in how we hoped it would leave.

~ Dawn

Truth coming forward.

~ Ans

I feel a lot of fundamentally hard core religious people will start asking some unexpected questions and look for their answers in unexpected places.

~ Vladimir

My prediction is more tolerance and co-operation by all groups... inter-class, races, religions, etc. An open heart all around, less control, more trust. It's new energy, anything is possible. To all Shaumbra, LETS JUST DO IT!

~ Simms

More Shaumbra will be working together in new projects!

~ Mareike

I see old structures falling in a widespread manner. I see the standards, the creator ones stepping up to fill these gaps. I see an image of lights of the standards all over the world, like acupuncture needles, infusing the new energy into 3D reality, like a web. Those who are particularly unaware of creating their reality I see having a very dark and difficult time. I see families seeing each other more clearly and becoming closer. Love is truly felt and seen.

~ Lothar

I see that many are becoming their own sovereign leader.

~ Daniela

A new world vision: time for the old and greed to go out and the ones with the expanded consciousness to expand yet more and be masters in their own creations.

~ amslucas

I predict there will be many "synchronistic" meetings of the young (and not so young) Crystals. They are quietly coming together to begin rebuilding after the collapse of monetary, political, business and educational systems as we knew them. Many of the early ones are ready, and its gonna be heavenly.

~ Peace

Groups of people behaving like a hive that has lost its queen.

False jollity, and much, much louder laughter and boisterousness by some people to show the world just how 'happy and fearless' they are!

A greater sense of sadness in the general population; not because of events throughout the world, but because many are waking up and starting to let go of vows and beliefs they believed were precious.

The medical profession starting to realize, en masse, that much illness is a disease of the mind.

~ Gael

Large dramas followed by far less *us* versus *them* in any area, both geographically and ideologically.

~ Ellen

I see tremendous upheaval lived with ease.

~ Francoise

Feeling of the one-ness of the world growing stronger. Conflicts continue, however the younger generation, especially, becoming more active and vocal in not accepting old ways of solving problems, (ie. war).

~ Judy

- There is more balance to come. Balance between poor and rich and to be controlled and be in control.

- Further the unconditional basic income for everyone is more probable than ever.

- More gender equity will appear in all areas, at home, in economics world and in the media.

- We will experience more decentralized supplies of energy for electricity for our homes.

- And fairer politics will support and encourage a win-win situation in our society.

~ Gitta Victoria

Consciousness

I feel that Latin America, at least Mexico, should be touched by Tobias' teachings before he returns to Sam, more than 100 million people should begin to awake.

~ Victor

New seeds of consciousness that have been planted by Shaumbra and those alike, will begin to sprout over a seemingly barren land, seeds nurtured by the storm's release, to reveal new shapes, sounds, colors, and textures. A collective abundant celebration beyond the illusions of chaos.

~ Rebecca

I Am feeling: we are learning to embrace the unknown in a new energy way with no expectations!

~ Pamelyn

Hidden lacks of love will disappear to create a place for revealed love.

~ Patrick

I feel that this year is a great one. There will be a lot of changes in nature around the world, natural disasters of all kinds. But the most important changes will happen in the human mind. And for those who are living in the new energy it will be the time to obtain the fruits of their harvest. They will feel and see love and abundance in their lives and the changes will not be dramatic.

~Tere

I feel a very deep and amazingly flourishing love overflowing my heart. It just grows and grows, I never had this before.

~ AnamPrema

My feeling is that there are two movements. Once more fear and controlling will increase, on the other side more people want to interconnect themselves and come closer, open their hearts. Yeah, lets do it! Lets create the year with new energy!

~ Christine

I feel this is the year of Integration; integrating many or all the selves of what we truly are Humans will use their inner wisdom. Get more creative, work together across national boundaries via the Internet. Human spiritual growth will occur as a result of earth and economic challenges.

~ Donna

It already did happen.....so there is nothing to report. It is happening and will happen, and might never have happened and may never happen.

Most of our existence is wrought with paradox and parable.

What is in your heart? All else can just move around as the Divine One wills it so.

~ Susie

Less time between what we envision and its materialization. Miracles becoming common stock. End of several wars.

~ Martine

I feel that we must be strong in our light as many will need it to keep from crashing. Gaia will help many to open their hearts and be less self-absorbed. Many will find the joy in flying and finding new ways to be.

~ Ann

The more we Trust our inner Divinity, the more magical, and flowing, life becomes, with unexpected solutions given to us every step of the way.

~ Pat

2009 is going to show the world HOPE and POSITIVE CHANGE. In the midst of what looks like chaos it will be clear to everyone that we have changed. People will take a stand for Peace and new leaders will emerge and talk and act from the heart and speak to everyones knowing, that we are ONE and we have joined together as ONE.

~ Eva

Deeply integrate and unfold the deepest potentials.

~ Monika

More human angels will start to be, feel and experience; totality, unity and freedom from the centre of the heart, the centre of all that is, without separation, in joy, love and freedom!!

~ Jayesh

Big celebration on a beach somewhere - Mexico? - with lots of happy people and a diversity of flags, probably from different nationalities. Also: regrouping, migration, freedom - less bound, dryness, love.

~ Hans

I predict that we will all be given many opportunities to choose peace. No longer can we expect peace to prevail on the planet, if we are not claiming our right to live everyday in peace. Our very lives, including all relationships, will show us clearly where our work lies. As we embrace our choice to be peaceful in response to everything that comes our way, we will birth peace from within and eventually see it radiating outwards all around us. It is our choice and we are that powerful.

~ Brenda

My feeling is that some of the old patterns in our belief systems and political systems will continue to break down and the energy continues to get lighter or the old burdens disappear more and more.

~ Siggie

Answers to our questions will be coming in from the most unlikely sources. Without conscious intention we'll have answers for others. We'll open our heart doors and bond with Spirit.

~ Rosmarie

Reaching for the skies. Tied to the ground. Frustration (emancipation from frustration for some). Taking stock of our (humanity's) standing and facing the reality of what we have created and philosophied and it's fragility.

~ Sharon

More and more conscious choosing around the world.

~ Florenta

I got so strongly...that all around the world there will be less judgement of others, and their situations, and more COMPASSION! Can't you just feel the compassion?

~ Elizabeth

The human consciousness will open like never before. We will see a lot of frustration and anxiety, but on the other hands, a lot of joy. Much openness and collaboration between countries at presidential and governmental level around the world.

~ Daniel

2009 will see the melding of the human and divine in ways we've not yet seen, especially among those who are of a higher consciousness. The result of this will be the freedom to be who we are without the old fear and doubt holding us back. We will all light up the world in an unprecedented way!

~ Paul

A lot of old unsettled fears will "come up." It might show in the bodies as aches, pains and nausea but it will be letting go of old "stuff."

~ Birthe

I "feel" more and more people each and every day are awakening physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritually to "oneness" and the realization that all of us are connected.

~ Barbara

In my inner most center I see...a cloud of cleansing. The veil is very thin and pure. The darkness that has been showing itself will begin to die away, for we are shrouded in love. So much love.

~ Dee

Through my heart and eyes I see the love that is Shaumbra every moment. The internal is external you KNOW. So is the internal fear of the black swan for most humanity. Thus they create harsh chaos in their illusions of truth.

~ Linda

I feel a sense of impending cohesion, a coming together, a unity.

~ Martha

We are going to use this time to experience how to use New Energy in our daily life. By practicing it, we're going to be experts!!

~ Kristin

I have the most wonderful feeling about a major breakthrough by the forces of the Light during this year of 2009. I expect to see very positive action by Archangel Michael and the Hosts of Heaven for the bringing of worldwide peace. May it be so according unto the Will of the Father of the all.

~ Jack

The dam has been straining to contain the pressure of the water building up over the past year. Its wall eventually collapses, finally giving way to the gushing torrent of New Energy that has been straining to get through. This water washes over many things, stripping and cleansing along its new path.

~ Grace

I feel that this year is one of True Authenticity - right down to those smallest places within ourselves where we allow small and seemingly insignificant happenings to cross our integrity boundary. These will stare you in the face and call you out - demanding True Authenticity On Every Level.

~ Linda

LOVE.

~ Herbert

2009 will bring more Awakening humans to Crimson Circle through the www and Shaumbra workshops, etc.

~ Bryan

When I feel 2009, I feel my heart swell like a flower opening up and bursting into blossom with tremendous sparkling beauty. And so it is, for our world and our earth! Changes? Yes, but nothing is wrong, just experiences.

~ Desirée

This year there will be important changes deep within one's belief system. Trust in one's own Divinity, out of mass consciousness, the awakening of the Human Divine.

~ Camelia

I feel the energy change, but I still translate it into fears. It worries me sometimes. To talk about what I think is interesting to share is a new and unexpected encouragement to be done with the repressed energy of childhood and past lives. Accept the irrational anger toward life and embrace the transmutation ... not easy! I was very frightened and irrational, but it is my job, to create this release for myself.

What I say seems personal, non-global, non-predictive and yet my intuition tells me that it's part of a cleaning, deep in the global energy, despite my work done alone.

~ Jeanne

Magic is in the Air

As We Bring in the Merlin Energy

As We Step into Trust of Who We Are

And Yes, I Am That I Am

This I Know
And Now
We Are That We Are
As the Veil Begins to Lessen
Allowing Us to Truly Experience Who We Are
And the Separation Dissolves Gently
~ Marilyn

I feel this year holds a renewal energy. More humans will awaken and there will be more deconstructing of old belief systems, but it will be in a smoother, gentler way. And then there will be the reconstructing of the human consciousness on Earth. Kinda like when a massive storm passes through, tearing down, stripping down and uprooting anything that's in its way. And then, the sunshine comes out revealing a path of torn leaves, broken down fences, uprooted , but with a feeling of cleansing and freshness in the air, and a promise of new and greener pastures.

~ Juliana

Frustration with the unworkable aspects of the old is coming rapidly to a head on all levels, and that the exhaustion it has engendered will leave us pausing to catch our breath when it finally crumbles permanently...before starting -- with surprise perhaps by those not yet awakened -- as the new potentials begin to unfurl.

~ Cherylann

My feeling is that we will be near the end of the ping pong years, there will be new opportunities but not without a little commotion. I believe that there are still a lot of adjustments that are either personal or worldwide. For me personally one of the worst days of 2009 will be July 19. When Adamus announced the departure of Tobias I mourned. I hope to have one day the chance to meet Sam.

~ Johanne

Expansion of Love in all hearts and energy God on Earth and at all levels.
The realization of being in the joy of living.
The Awakening growing Beings, and the emergence of new consciousness.

Creation in the New Energy of new opportunities in all the areas of our lives and throughout the world.

~ Savayah.

I feel it.....

As Sleeping Beauty totally woke, a symbol begins to talk in a dream.

My slight act does a flash bulb on the earth.

The gangway of the rainbow appears. From the earth · · · in all courses!

It's great!

~ hinako. K.

I FEEL complete chaos and destruction of old 'foundations.' I FEEL I AM one who embraces the challenge and will recreate with integrity and authenticity.

~ Niccole

Sensing the genuine qualities people are going to imbibe into their personal integration. Not talking, but diving. Truly, truly allowing passion to allow them to integrate and own it.

~ Norma

We've heard the consciousness of the world say "We want change." I believe that we'll be actually willing for things to change.

~ Garret

I think there will be truly, truly consciousness awakening in a way that we will see, way beyond just us, that truly people at a point that they're open to doing it different, open to something new. And it's going to... we'll see it all around us, that people are truly going to focus – open up – to something more. Truly open up, and we'll see it all around us and it'll be truly breathtakingly beautiful. And it won't always come because things were easy. It'll often come because things are really going to invite us to say "Do you want it different?"

~ Linda

I predict that many will be Masters in the New Energy.

~ Nina

I feel 2009 will be a year of deep changes on all levels. It will be the opportunity for us to make use of all that we've been learning over the past years. We will see compassion in action! I celebrate the unseen!!!

~ Louise

When Tobias asked the question during the Shoud what I personally felt was excitement and anticipation! Let the fun begin!! I strongly feel that for me personally this is the year where the seeds I/we have been planting finally will start budding, the year where I get to be the Lighthouse - as Kryon calls it - that I AM, on a much more conscious level, the year to fully stepping into walking the talk, the year of opportunity!

~ Joep

When I feel into the coming year - globally - there is a lightness amidst the chaos, a tenderness following catharsis, unexpectedness, surprisedness, taken-aback-ness.

~ Jennifer

A very light filling
No heaviness at all
Very clear felling
I can even describe it as a cool breeze
Very pleasant to fill
It seems like every thing is open and free flowing
And with all that wide and open filling
I can fill also the divine very present,
Playful and willing to come and play
In this year of 2009.

~ Adi

I saw a huge letter "A" several times during my vision. Then I got the feeling "This will be "The year 1 of the New Age".

I saw the five-star/pentangle several times. The Star of David/six-star turned into a five-star. For me the five-star is the symbol for the New Divine Human. This is the beginning of the end of all monotheistic religions. This year something will happen that symbolizes the loss of power of Monotheism.

I saw 5 elephants each with a flame of fire over the head moving forward with much strength and joy. I was thrilled to feel that majestic energy! "I can do it. Step by step." A very strong bodily sensation. Total trust in myself, independence and freedom.

~ Sandra

Moving, Expanding, Exciting, Monumental Changes, Unity.

~ Bobbi

I predict many breaths of new energy and hope in great parts of the world for 2009, with shifts in the consciousness to follow. Also a lot of releasing of old concepts, belief systems and energy. Humanity is ready for the next step...from chaos grows something new.

~ Elisa

Trust, joy, happiness and the allowance for these on a very deep level.

And love

LOVE

changes its definition many times, it is growing, expanding. Wow!

~ Aila

Many people start to deeply questioning theirs belief systems and, in the process, will meet and shaumbra/the teachers the find clarity and to understand more about themselves.

~ Florin

General

In the world, nothing will turn out as generally expected today.

Old energy egos will keep arching themselves against the new energy tide, so I expect a lot of exacerbated confrontations in politics and the economy. That should lead to an increasing number of spectacular failures and restructurings and will include significant events on the geopolitical scene as well.

Business success will be more and more linked to using new energy, while old energy models get more and more exposed for what they are, and fall apart.

Waves of epidemics. All these changes affect also the body, and many more than usual will be sick and will need to rest at some point, both Shaumbra who need to cleanse, and Old energy people fighting the new.

- For Shaumbra, it will be more and more difficult to work in an old energy environment.

~ Gwenn

I see, that nobody is personally guilty for big troubles, it just the roles we play. The scenario is going dramatic. But I see it is just for a reason to awake, become present, connected.

I have a strong connection with my grandmother who has passed. She was a very conscious person. She and others from the light told me they will be with us supporting us till July. On the outside will be drama going on but at the same time celebration within.

~ Spellina

Tissue regeneration, individuals will be able to re-grow body parts, eyes, limbs, organs etc. Also, the regeneration of the spinal cord enabling those who are paralyzed to walk and move again.

~ Scott

Let's choose to Live Beautifully at Ease, Geniously Simple, Powerfully Present in All That We are and sharing moreover, here and now in this special year 2009 !

~ Danielle

Shaumbra who desire to connect with love partners will attract him or her in the most amazing and effortless ways.

~ Simonetta

We all will dance with the magical New Energy and with the Great Unknown! What that means? Well, we will find out, don't we?!

~ Maria

I had to change my plans, similar to a butterfly's flight plan in gusty winds. Do they make plans or go with the creative flow? Somehow I feel the later is true. To get or go through the coming events, I would like to picture myself as the butterfly...not be surprised as the events take place but fly with them.

Butting up against them would do no good except for the experience of surprise, etc. I like to enjoy the wonders of this New Energy... heck, I've already gotten frustrated with it. That being done, go on to the next. Life is beautiful, keeping my head out if it works so much easier. Feel the flow, and ride the waves, predicting is not the same as 'seen' a new creation is in the making. Enjoy.

~ Carole

I feel this year is the chance to be able to bring out our Light (making real our dreams, insights, passions in our 3D world) while walking through the mist of fear, darkness and desperation. Following our inner Northern Star, be what We really are and show it to the others.

~ Francesc

Openings of a lot of potentials.

~ Mary

Logically, things do not make sense.

~ Jane

Finally.

~ Indigo Raven

I think 2009 will be a very difficult year. I don't mean to jump out from the short wall but in my own life things seem to be working up to a point where it could get really challenging and difficult. At any rate, it's hard to believe 09 will be a happy fun year with what Kryon refers to as "pruning" of our world and the fairly recent channeling of Adamus - though I'm very happy that evil is starting to be challenged.

~ Boodyup

Folk who've been doing this for a bit will start to literally 'see' beyond the illusion of separation - the way we see the world will align to the way we feel it. When I look at this sofa in front of me I will be able to physically see, not just feel, the play of energy (as light form) that connects it to everything else within my visual range.

~ Jez

Trials, tears and healing humility.

~ Gary

I think many are going to be swept off their feet in surprise at "how much is yet to be moved through." I feel it so deeply. I especially recognize that this "light at the end of the tunnel full of our wildest dreams" is also something that definitely needs to be let go of as well.

As someone so aptly stated "there is no desk in the ethers handing out rewards for a job well done." The job itself is the reward. I intuit that this year we will discover what that really means.

~ Jodie

2009, The Year of Miracles.

~ Jodi

When we are making predictions, many of us have wonderful visions. By expressing them we use our creative power to create that. Hope is so wise and full of love and wisdom.

I predicted Obama would be shot in his first months of president. Now I feel there are also other potentials, because we all have so much hope. The energy has changed.

The third earth will manifest itself in material form.

Sammy boy rocks, he will have a great time on earth when Tobias pops totally into him. Some people will be so attracted to him. Geoff will meet him, and will absolutely love him more than he ever could imagine. I will love Sam more than I ever could imagine, and the idea he is here on earth comforts me a lot.

I will have a wonderful time staying in my body and express myself totally!

~ Elleke

There will be many that recognize the beauty of truly feeling "free." Some will interpret this energy as a living nightmare. More Shaumbra will experience new levels of trust "in the moment", and that all is truly well. There will be more clarity on what appears to be the hypnosis state - "the matrix" - and also what reality is truly "REAL" - our choice of freedom.

Appearances and occurrences in the world to the contrary, we will start living in the abundance of the "now" moment and really "FEEL" this versus intellectualizing this new energy. We will start to truly understand how to work with the NEW ENERGY. As to details of how material abundance - food, shelter, safety, the "soft" pillow that Tobias spoke of, we will see more and more that it is just truly "there." Synchronistic events showing up that seem to take care of us, before we ask the question of what next? No more urge or need to keep searching for "what next" - just being. THAT is freedom.

We will enjoy ourselves and enjoy these changes and offer ourselves with joy, without all the stress and worry - if we so choose. It gets harder for others, and easy for us. Such a dichotomy! Deeply ingrained gifts as a result of integration of aspects will start showing up out of nowhere. Bursts of confidence, insight, next steps come together. Wisdom unfounded comes through to make life easier and more enjoyable. I would describe this as "5th dimensional living."

~ Anne Marie

Anything that IS, is going to be more so. Any energies that need releasing, is going to be played out with gusto. Those who chose to keep promoting war and inflicting war, willfully turning their backs on peace and resolution, while at the same time asking the rest of the world to feel sorry for them will find that sympathy is drying up. The message is going to be sent that it's time to take responsibility for themselves.

The people in the Middle East are either going to run out of bullets, or people, or they're suddenly going to forget what the fighting was all about and realize they're all one brotherhood under their prophets.

I can feel the quiet pockets of creativity out there. New technologies, new discoveries. They are going to find the support that they've been asking for and denied.

There is going to be fear and all the things that go with having illusions fall apart. But I sense that the tendency will be to quickly come together and help each other through the worst. Looking back they'll say that losing their house and stuff was the best thing that happened to them, because through that, they found what the important thing about life was all about.

The 3 major religions (or leaders thereof) are going to dig in deep, drag the heels and try to muster up support from the faithful. And it's going to become clear that those who chose violence are going to be seen very clearly as distorting the message of their prophets and imams and rabbis. All manners and branches of evangelism in America are going to be seen as simply redundant, ridiculous, racist, homophobic, hateful and simpleminded.

Even though I know there are some things that are going to take at least 20yrs or more to resolve and evolve, this year is going to feel like someone just put the pedal to the metal.

~ Laurie

I predict a massive surge in peoples desire to understand the nature of sexual energies. Not just in its current format, new teachers will now create different expressions of SES consciously or unconsciously. Doors that were previously closed to creating these are now open and the many who have been waiting will pour through the doors.

I predict that Crimson Circle and interest in its business and its consciousness will become bigger than any of us anticipated on a global scale. It will be become bigger than Ben Hur! I predict It would be wise to buy shares.

Someone in the world is going is to understand why the young ones are having so much difficulty learning and develop a more expanded way of teaching.

~ Leigh

I predict that everything will be absolutely unpredictable this year!

OK seriously, for the world, I have no predictions, but I feel that there will be a lot of chaos and disasters of all kinds and all this will happen very fast, one after another all over the world this year. And it will be up to us Shaumbra to see the joy in all this chaos because we will know and show others that nothing is as it seems, that there is a wondrous perfection and order behind the seeming chaos, and the seeming disasters are there to clear up a lot of very old stuck energies so that the new can come in.

For myself, I have no predictions either. I just know that I will soar this year. I will finally break free of all the BS (belief systems) I've been dragging along and just surrender in full trust to the wind.

~ Alev

I think we're gonna get BEAPed a lot!

~ Vimala

I predict lots of chocolate.

~ Karel

- Conversion of physical church buildings to ? as structured religions also begin to go bankrupt...
- Free trade and travel between US and Cuba...
- End of "don't ask, don't tell" in US military... gays welcome!
- Shift in connection between dogs and humans (not clear yet)...
- Watched geothermal pots won't boil, those no one is yet watching will blow, blast, spew...
- Fewer lawsuits, less belief in legal system and fewer willing to risk resources to pursue "justice" (ahahaha)...
- More gardens, arbors, less "landscaping"...
- Escalation in rape and molestation as the male energy revs itself up against its loss of power... (i.e., grabbing at Gaia's skirts as she leaves)
- Drug usage decriminalized as the prison systems run out of operating money, maybe beginning of legal sales of drugs, thus further reducing prison population as dealers are pushed out of business or, perhaps, go to etsy.com!
- Fewer babies born, at least in the US...
- More spiders, more bicycles, many more fires...
- Even more reality shows, but less rap music...
- Changes in weather bring changes in light that will affect people's emotional states... weather changes will bring louder noises from nature that some people will have difficulty bearing...others will have to adjust to being wetter, colder, hotter and thus human skin and hair will start to adjust.

- Birds...(that's it, just birds)

~ Mary

I saw a flat sandy dessert. The wind blowing, the sun shining. Every day, I walk. Every day, I enjoy the wind, the sunshine & the warmth of the day. Every day, I have enough water. And every night, I enjoy the coolness of the evening & sleep like a baby.

~ child_of_isis

First TV series featuring 'lightworker' good guys fluffing the 'dark' to death!
Weapon of choice: rainbow coloured feather dusters.

There'll be some extremely hot weather somewhere and there'll be some very cold weather somewhere and there'll be storms and flooding where storms and flooding happen and there'll be earthquakes in earthquake zones!

My predictions - 99% of the weather will be 'normal' but no one will notice because its not that extraordinary. There'll be peace all over, but most folks wont notice because they'll be too busy focusing on the extraordinary stuff and ...well, 'peace' doesn't leave much to talk about!

~ Ashki

Alignment, alignment, alignment, and the beginnings of self-governing. Many in the religious community beginning to open more deeply to the true core essence of the scriptures...abandoning the interpretations of the human mind, to embody the spirit of the word.

~ Jasmine

- Deeper, more clear connections to others, whether known or unknown to us.

- Our bodies will need a LOT more water than ever before.

- Young people (indigos) forming empowered groups to achieve global changes of old patterns.
  - Generational breach blurring (Being able to connect in a deeper level with people regardless of age differences).
  - Beginning to understand nature and a way to communicate with it.
  - Many people getting sick as a tool for awakening, miraculous healings. A new understanding of death.
  - New solutions instead of a "war against drugs".
  - Soldiers refusing to fight.
  - Shattering of the most pernicious religious orders. (Breaking apart from the inside).
  - A year of big contrasts (chaos vs. illumination)
- ~ Morganna

I feel there are going to be very unusual "partnerships" in 2009. Seemingly disparate people, organizations, groups will partner up and cause eyebrows to raise and people to "talk" and gossip, what is this all about???? -- resulting in unusual changes, of course.

There will be huge "talk" among people who hook into the "now is end of the world" theories, even people who have never thought about things like that. It will seem like a huge fear has gripped even sensible people. A large percentage will embrace their deep fears for quite a while....and then begin to see they have the choice to change their beliefs and change their lives to one of trust and joy.

There will be many amateur photographers taking photos of weather-related events all over the world, before, during, and after the pattern has come and gone....experiencing and seeing these photos will encourage people to respond by respecting nature and the Earth. This deep respect will begin to take root in "almost" every person's consciousness on Earth.

People will become very sensitive to marketing manipulation, advertising, and television/internet news bias and come to see they have no one but themselves to sort it out. Saying "NO, thank you, that is not good for me," will become commonplace and people will feel so good after saying this that they will be surprised at their own power to make decisions that create a feeling of self-worth.

~ JoiedeVivre

.....finally?!..... ??
